SUPREME PLUS

Cellulose
Insulation with Zone Defense® and Board Defense®
additives.

AN EASY WAY TO KEEP HOME SWEET HOME, NICE AND COMFY.

Made of up to 85% recycled paper, Supreme Plus cellulose insulation gives you great insulating performance with an added bonus—the Zone Defense® and Board Defense® additives. These additives kill certain pests that may damage or infest insulation, such as cockroaches, termites, carpenter ants, silverfish and darkling beetles*.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Supreme Plus cellulose insulation is treated with insecticides called Zone Defense and Board Defense. It helps to prevent insect damage and infestation in the insulation*. The blow-in cellulose insulation helps fill gaps and voids that may be left by many other types of insulation, creating an energy-saving, thermal blanket that helps to reduce air leaks¹. The addition of Supreme Plus cellulose insulation also helps quiet noises from the outside, making your home more peaceful inside.

I ALREADY HAVE INSULATION. WHY WOULD I NEED MORE?

Many homes don't have the amount of insulation recommended by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE), so adding more could help increase your energy savings—helping you save money.^{1,2}

CAN SUPREME PLUS CELLULOSE INSULATION HELP REDUCE MY ENERGY USAGE?

According to the DOE, homeowners can typically save up to 20% of heating and cooling costs by adding insulation and air sealing their homes.^{1,2} This simple step helps block heat loss in the winter and heat gain in the summer, keeping your home more comfortable year-round.

Zone Defense® and Board Defense® are registered trademarks of InCide Technologies, Inc.

*Supreme Plus cellulose insulation contain the additives, Zone Defense® and Board Defense® — insecticides registered with the EPA for use in cellulose insulation. Supreme Plus insulation has been treated with the Zone Defense and Board Defense additives to help prevent damage to and infestation of the insulation by certain insect species, such as cockroaches, termites, carpenter ants and silverfish. The addition of Zone Defense and Board Defense insecticides to help prevent damage to and infestation of the insulation by certain insect species does not confer insecticide protection outside of the Supreme Plus insulation. Use of this chemically-treated insulation does not substitute for an approved termiticide product to control subterranean termites, which may be required by some states.
